

Miss Michele would like to mention....

January 2012

January Happenings

As we wait for the winter weather to arrive, our classrooms will be creating our own winter wonderlands. Be on the lookout for snowflakes, igloos, snowmen and arctic animals. The older children will also be learning about some important people in history as we celebrate Martin Luther King Day on 1/16.

Ms. Denise & Ms. Shonda celebrate 5 Years!

Creative Care Childcare Centers would like to honor Ms. Denise Brooker and Ms. Lashonda Graves for five years of service at our Norristown center!! We appreciate the love they show to each of the children in the center. Keep up the great work!!

More Paperwork?

Please remember to complete your packet of renewal paperwork by January 14th. Thank you for helping us maintain accurate and up-to-date information on your child.

School Closing Info

Creative Care is closed on the following dates:

January 16th

**Please stay tuned to 10NBC during inclement weather for school closings****

Scholastic Books

Scholastic Book orders will be due on January 17th. Just a reminder that each book ordered earns our center free materials for our classrooms!

Please dress your child appropriately for the winter

Congratulations Teachers!!

I would like to thank all of our dedicated staff members whose hard work and commitment to the care of the children has earned our center a STAR 4 in the Pennsylvania Keystone Stars Program. Please give a round of applause to each special teacher!

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

